The history?
The last night of Federico García Lorca on earth, before being shot for his "modern" ideas. But it is also the history of all the victims of a reprisal, those persecuted or tortured for their ideas; and that of those advanced to the times that decided to live free and paid dearly for it. The approach to myth, the poet, the traveller, the playwright, the friend, to the lover and all those who write, live and love with passion.

De La Baldufa

Three clowns cry for the death of their leader, Confetti: the absence of the father that used to lead them is evident; the void he left seems absolute, the lack of leadership feels uneasy, overwhelms, mortifies... profound grief! Should someone replace him?!

Once the time of sorrow is over, the hustle and bustle to meet a new guide starts. Bye bye, Confetti is a show of eccentric and authentic clowns, where beating around the bush is not allowed at all. Equal parts of humour and love. But, more than that, it's about surprise and astonishment, in a place where the audience and actors breathe the same emotions.

Through the body and the wood I speak of my memories, of me, of my godfather and of those people with wrinkled hands and feet rooted in the earth.

In a rustic context and with the Pyrenean tradition of fallas as a source of inspiration, a piece emerges between the movement and the trapeze (or its symbolism) through a simple and visual language. A show where the tradition and the contemporary coexist, the rustic and the most delicate, and that invites the audience to be part of this ritual. A scenario under construction where everything is transformed and where through the imaginary they glimpse the contradictions of the human being.
